

Harmony the Forgetful Hen and the Fox

By Naomi Lake

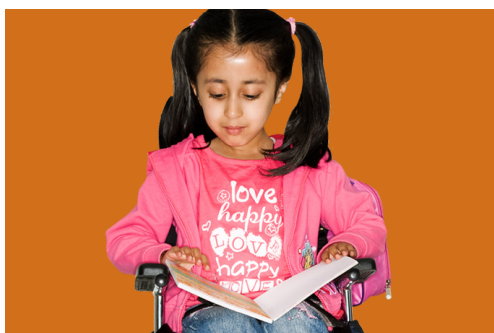

My name is Naomi Lake.

I advocate for Down Syndrome Western Australia.

I lived on a farm when I was a child.

I loved the chickens.

I write books for children.

They are about a chicken called Harmony.

My first book is called

Harmony the Forgetful Hen
and the Lost Eggs.

My second is called
Harmony the Forgetful Hen
 and the Fox.

Lots of people work together to make a book.

I write the words.

Dave draws the pictures.

The designer puts the words and the pictures together.

Next the book is printed.

I love writing stories.

I get my ideas from things I see around me.

It is important for children to learn to read and write.

It makes me happy when teachers use my book in their class.

I travel to schools to talk about my books and do activities with the kids.

You can buy my books at www.harmony.paulaanddanny.com

Or email

harmony_hen@yahoo.com.au