

New national website

Down Syndrome Australia is making a new website.

The website has information about Down syndrome.

It has information to help you make choices.

It has information for families and people in the community.

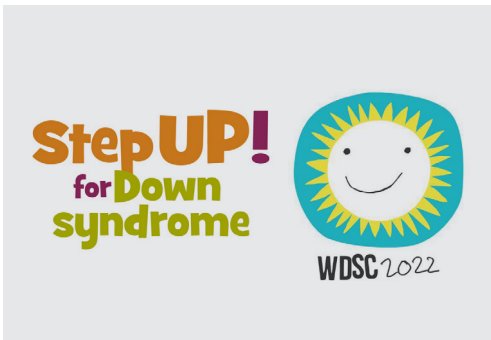

The website has Easy Read pages.

The information is easy to read and understand.

The website tells you about our advocacy in

- Employment
- Education
- Prenatal testing
- Immigration

It has information on

- StepUP! For Down syndrome
- World Down Syndrome Congress 2022

The Down Syndrome Advisory Network is a group of people with Down syndrome from across Australia.

They helped us decide what is on the website.

The new website will start in May 2020.
